News From Your TOWN HALL

The parking meters will be cranked up and ready to go on Monday morning, and from then on you will be expected to deposit a nickel for each hour parked.

Sundays and holidays are free for parking, but if you park too long at odd times and the little red ticket is left on your wheel, you can obtain a refund for one quarter, if you go around to the City Hall and make the deposit.

If you must be looked up for the violation, it'll be no less than a buck—and if you are too persistent in these violations you might get hooked more.

Some merchants say as long as you are going to have meters as all, they should be run on around to main street, where town and down street.

Every meeting of the Commission brings evidence of our growing, such as applications for building, zoning changes, street repairs, liquor stores, talk of hotels, and what-not.

Main street could be filled—that is, every vacant lot—by newsmen if the lots were owned by local people who have plans to build. When building materials are available, a six-month stay away from Belle Glade will cause you to look twice to see if you stopped in the right town.

Get Requests In Now For Farm Labor Needs

The Farm Extension Bureau on Thursday morning received a message which will be of interest and advantage to the Glades farmers.

The State Department has entered into a new contract with the Bahamian Government whereby from 1500 to 2000 laborers will be brought to the States, starting around March 1st, and will be apportioned to the sections where their services will be required in farm work.

Manager Jack Royals states that if there are any farmers in this section who need the need of laborers for the planting and harvesting of the spring crop, they should immediately get in their requests to him, so that same may be filed with the State Farm Division, so required allotments of workers may be assigned to this section.

Following a lecture to the Florida Soil Science Society on Tuesday night in Gainesville, Dr. Selman A. Waksman and Mrs. Waksman, will visit the Glades as guests of Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Allison at the Experiment Station, over the week-end.

Dr. Waksman is a scientist of international reputation in the field of soil microbiology and the discoverer of streptomycin, a "drug" that kills many germs which are immune to penicillin.

Dr. and Mrs. Allison will hold open house Sunday afternoon between two and four o'clock to present Dr. and Mrs. Waksman to Glades people.

Stage A Drive For Sidewalks on Avenue A

The need for more sidewalks on Avenue A is recognized by the City Fathers, and that demand may be provided, if property owners will join in and do a bit of cooperating with the city. It is the desire to get sidewalks down both sides of the street from Main street to Fourth street, same to be built according to city specifications, either by the frontage owners or by the city, on a mutual agreement plan.

As it now is, especially in the rainy season, white people will not go up town, and colored people will not go to the east, whereas, if sidewalks were provided, there would be access to both sections without getting wet and muddy feet.

Local Walter Winchell Talks To Lions Club

The Lions on Wednesday had an unusually large number of guests, including members from Miami, West Palm Beach, Pahokee and St. Cloud.

The program chairman introduced the speaker of the day as "Walter Winchell of Belle Glade." Judge John M. Gledhill of the Herald staff, gave in a narrative way, an interesting story of newspapers and newspaper men's work, which was treated in a manner entirely different from former program speakers.

Club members were invited to the oyster and fried chicken picnic at Port Mayaca Thursday night, along with the Pahokee Lions and the football teams, as guests.

Another Fatal Accident Down On Miami Road

Another fatal accident occurred just south of South Bay, early Saturday morning, when H. H. Ledlow, of 639 Dewey avenue, Hollywood, met instant death.

According to the police, Ledlow must have fallen asleep at the wheel, while he was driving at least 70 mile g.p.h. His car left the roadway at a curve, plunged over the road and ran into the canal bank, sped across the water and landed many feet up on the east bank of the canal.

The car cut a wide swath in the laydown bed, and threw the debris many feet upon the bank, and was a complete wreck.

When coroner George Pedler and Constable Ray Whitlock got to the scene, they found Ledlow, as Ray put it, "graveyard dead" in his car. The coroner, who was about 35 years of age, was an agent for the Burroughs Adding Machine company out of Miami. He is survived by his wife.

Big Convention Likely To Come To Palm Beaches

Glades Chapter Extends Invitation To National Body For Event

The Glades chapter of the National Wholesale Vegetable and Fruit Growers' Association held its February meeting at the Club Gala, at South Bay, Tuesday night, with the largest number of members and visitors present in its history, some 50 persons being seated for the lavish chicken dinner.

The most important issue of the evening was the endorsing of an attempt to invite the national convention to meet in Palm Beach next January, and such invitation was authorized.

Dr. Johnson, now operating hotels in Palm Beach, was present and promised fullest cooperation in the way of hotel accommodations and promotional work, thru the syndicate's facilities, and the Chamber of Commerce of Palm Beach, and the Resource Commission.

After a term of imprisonment on Formosa he was released to Camp Mendenhall in Manchukuo because

New Buildings Going Up All Over The City

Work has started on the Leo Rader block, on West Avenue A, which is to consist of six store rooms, one 25 by 75 feet, and five 19-1/2 by 75 feet in dimension. Foundations are being placed for a two story building, which should be erected above the first floor. The work is being done on a day to day basis, with John Holmer of Moore Haven, as supervisor of construction.

The Scarborough building is coming along nicely, and the new school across the street will occupy the west unit, will take possession possibly prior to the first of March. W. L. Collins, Holmer of Moore Haven, is also preparing to open up his store.

Piling and grades have all been completed, and now all that is to be occupied by Donald Weeks, and the Elsbury building on Main street.

Conglomerate Report On Winter Deal With Total Car Movemett

All Enjoyed Skating

The portable skating rink located north of the bridge on North Main street opened Saturday, and has been receiving a satisfactory patronage. It was noted that the patronage had come in contact with the kiddies, but that young, middle aged and oldsters were out on the floor, having a whale of a good time.

Duck Tangles With Plug

While out fishing on the lake on Sunday afternoon, Walker Fears had an unusual experience. He had been fishing and was winding in the line when there was a sudden tug. What was his return? Believe it or not, a blue bill duck which had come in contact with the hooks of the bait, with its wing, and had gotten hung. Bet that duck, as he was released, wondered what in hades he had run into during his diving spree.

Find Okeechobee Fishing To Their Great Liking

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Dunham of East St. Louis, Mo., spent several days at the Fears hotel on the lake, and they enjoyed the bass fishing in Lake Okeechobee. They are fishermen deluxe, and they have fished most of the better known waters of the States and Canada. On all of their three trips out they quickly secured the bag limit, with fish ranging from two to five pounds. They were out of Capt. White's camp, over in the Bacom Point sector, and report that they have never found better bass fishing grounds anywhere, not even in Florida.

Development Of New Industry Has Been Started

Some time ago a group of Cuban sugar men, backed by the new Pan American Bank of Miami, purchased and cleared 30,000 acres of land for development, down on Route 26, just across the new River canal, opposite the home of the National Sugar and Products Company's holdings, and reaching down the highway some eight miles.

Back From New York

Observation and Comment

By John M. Gledhill

The two stories carried in last week's Herald provided by the U. S. Sugar Corporation and the Florida Power and Light Company, made pretty good sense in a regard to developments in the Glades, and showed the faith these corporations have in the future greatness of the area. If such concerns can spend monies as they are doing, surely we common folks can hang on a bit longer, and grow up with the country, and secure our little portion of the prosperity inevitably to arrive.

With Industrial Expansion, Added Telephone, Telegraph, Bus and Airplane Service Coming to the Region, it Will Not Be So Hard

Cabbage Better, Potatoes Easing Off And Celery Prospects Brighter

Celery farmers had a little more cheerful smile the opening of the week, because the market showed an increase and firmer stand, and demand for the succulent vegetable was again picking up. As a result of this change, celery has been the heaviest commodity toted in from the fields to the packing houses, and again leads in the outward shipments of the week. Some of the overstock on the cabbage market was reduced, and demand for new cabbage increased, so that there was a two-bit advance, so that growers may get a penny or two more for their cash box.

The potato harvest is practically over, with the exception of a few fields here and there not

Better Service, Lower Rates
 Under a new agreement which became effective January 1, 1946, between the nation's leading fire and marine insurance companies, specific provisions are made for prompt payment to policyholders of a wide variety of insured losses without waiting to determine which policy or insurance company may be finally liable for the whole or major portion of the loss sustained.

The agreement in effect benefits the vast majority of American families by avoiding future uncertainties as to proper settlements in the case of many normal risks, such as those to family possessions temporarily away from the home premises. Such items as laundry sent out, clothing at the dry cleaners, furniture or rugs away being renovated, or radios at the repair shop have been the subjects of disputes from time to time arising in the adjustment and apportionment of losses because of overlapping coverage under two or more policies held by the customer and the service shop.

Few people are mindful of the many changes taking place constantly in the business of insurance. Many of these changes are directed toward greater efficiency and economy. This is one of the reasons why fire insurance rates have dropped so spectacularly over the past few decades, in spite of rising costs in nearly every field of activity.

As Equipment Becomes Available More Telephones Can Be Installed

As new switchboards, cables, wire and telephones become available, we will be able to serve more and more of those who have been waiting longest for service.

To catch up on all held orders for service will require very large additions to our telephone plant.

This is a tremendous construction job that will require much time to complete even after the delivery of equipment. There are many places where we have switchboards to install, even places where we must construct new buildings or building additions to house new switchboards.

But we can say that we are on our way to furnish service to all who want it—on our way to restore Bell System standards of service and raise them even higher.

Football Teams Given An Oyster And Fried Chicken Outing

The combination outing which the Lions club of Belle Glade and Palokoe extended to their football teams, cheer leaders and coaching staffs, was held at the Port Mayaca locks, on Thursday night, with an attendance of around 150 present.

The menu of the evening was oysters on the half shell, and fried chicken with Everglades vegetable trimmings, and every one in attendance had a grand and glorious outing.

Jack Bell, of the Miami Herald staff, was the speaker of the evening.

Bell proved himself just as interesting a talker as he is a writer and spoke in a calm, expansive manner and every heart him with the greatest of attention.

He stated that the football season was over, so was the war, but deemed it wise that we not forget the latter too soon and that we might not be held his experiences as a war correspondent which took him into all the world fighting areas. His story was the relating of war incidents and a description of how the enemy fought and how the Americans and Allied troops gave them the answer.

He pressed home the fact that the German and Japanese were superior fighters until the Americans came along and proved that they were the best fighting men in the world.

Extending Lines

The Southern Bell Telephone has completed their first project out of South Bay, a 200 two-wire cable from South Bay to the Okelanta Sugar development. The cable was laid underground paralleling the highway the entire distance. A ditch digger dug the trench and the cable was laid 40 inches below the surface.

The crew is now working on the second project, carrying the cable from South Bay to Belle Glade. The cable is being laid underground from South Bay until it has crossed the North New River Canal and the streets on either side of the canal and will then be carried on poles paralleling the highway to the hiatus, thence north to the Belle Glade city limits and thence underground to the Belle Glade telephone offices.

OBSERVATIONS

for present traffic bound people to reach our black soil dominion. The more they come, the more they return and stay. No section of the country offers the opportunity to the sick-to-citizen and investor, than here, just south of old Lake Okechobee. Our soil is our wealth, and there is plenty of the latter left untouched in the still uncultivated and unimproved lands. Money, good sense, and fertilizer added to the soils, surely will grow stuff.

The wheels of the big new starch plant at Clewiston are now revolving and producing the starch product from sweet potatoes. This plant as yet has not been thrown open to public inspection, but when it is, it will prove of as much interest to tourists, as has the sugar mill in the past. Underneath a program of dedication is in the making by the promoters.

Everglades farmers are very fortunate in having the Experimental Station, where a faculty of experts can be consulted about their farming problems. From the study and laboratory experiments, and field experience, many of the headachy farm problems have been solved, and placed in operative projects. The fact that the experts found that the muck land needed minerals for crops and pastures, that certain insecticides were needed to kill vegetable pests, are among the outstanding works of the station. Cattlemen also get much advice and help from the station. When we get that new state pavilion at the station, the farm will become more than ever a rendezvous for farmers, cattlemen, citrus growers and all who produce in the rich Glades section.

A tour of the U. S. Sugar Corporation's sugar mill at Clewiston is still proving a big attraction to Florida visitors, just as it did before the war, and up to last Sunday, nearly 9,000 persons had made the trip thru the plant. Visitors are coming from all over the states and many foreign countries. A tour of the big grinding plant gives visitors their first knowledge of how raw sugar is produced here in South Florida, and it is quite a treat and revelation to all. The little bag of sugar, formed by given as a souvenir of the trip, is absent this year, owing to the sugar shortage. Seeing all that sugar being produced, visitors wonder why there should be a shortage of the commodity especially down here where it is produced. They forget that Florida, like the rest of the country, is bound by governmental regulations. For reasons, mainly accommodations, the USSC has called off its annual banquet to key employees and invited friends, which has been an important event for so many years. A big barbecue at the season's end will replace the big banquet affair. The corporation has just announced a housing building plan for its employees, to make good on that predicted 50,000 claim within the next decade.

Our city duds are bound to have a cleaner and more sanitary city, and to that effect, have purchased a modern covered, compacting garbage truck, which they figure will pay for itself in better service and lessened operative costs. A street sweeper may be the next piece of apparatus to be added to the sanitary division. It also costs big money to have the interior of the water towers cleaned and painted on an average of once every three or four years. To forestall this big expense, which will be less cost than for one cleaning, a new electric contrivance is to be installed in the tanks which will keep them clean and preserve the steel for an indefinite period.

Had the pleasure over the week end of giving two of my oldest friends, Charles Boynton and O. H. Shaw, of Cleveland, a personally conducted trip over all the Glades, and like so many others, they could not believe the things they saw on the trip, or the great development that is going on here. The visitors were more than enthusiastic over what they saw and were told by the guide. Course, the Judge enjoyed the fraternizing with his old friends.

A thousand dollar donation to any project is money not to be idly turned down. It was in the same spirit that it was obtained and given that the High School library accepted the generous gift from the Rotary and PTA forces. That sum ought to purchase an immense amount of reading and educational matter for our kids. Belle Glade is very generous to school activities thru its football, basketball and entertainment patronage. It causes at times, a wonderment whether the kids duly appreciate what is done in their behalf.

The soil of the Glades is not backing down on the men and cultivate it, to bring out its rich harvest of vegetables. No slothful worker or agency ever progresses, but if the energetic and carefully planned projects are carried through, farms here bring their due and ready returns.

BIG CONVENTION

convention comes, it will bring a large attendance from the north for all will want to spend a pleasant vacation in Florida in January. Funds for the convention are raised largely through national advertising in the association's souvenir book.

Reports from the growers and packing house people were that very poor telephone and telegraph service had been experienced the past season and growing better no faster. The president was authorized to send a protest to the State Railway Commission over this condition, asking that its aid be given to secure better service.

The present car movement of the FEC from the Lake region to Jacksonville and from Jacksonville to northern markets came under discussion, and was found very unsatisfactory, as local shipments now take four days to destination, and are not protected with a third morning delivery out of Jacksonville. Conferences had been held with the rail people, and some improvement was made, but not sufficient, and the battle to secure the carrying out of the published schedule out of the Lake region and Jacksonville, as a protective measure, is still being urged. It was also indicated that there might be a shortage of cars in the Lake region as the government bargain has claim that we are getting more than our portion of such service.

It was reported that while the northern producers had made a fight to set aside the new freight rates for the western area, special Texas, it had not yet seriously attacked Florida but, unless all indications are false, it could be expected, and all members were cautioned to be on their guard and prepare to fight for the already given rights under Interstate Commission rulings.

Urgency was also made over the "bulge" packing in hampers and crates, the careless handling of products and containers, for it injured the market for Glades products and also carried heavy penalties, rejections and low prices. A better and more attractive pack, better car packing, is imperative if our goods continue to remain in competition with California and Texas.

It was also announced that for the first time, the Glades and Pompano area now had a market news service, secured thru the efforts of the local chapter. The next meeting will be held the second Monday in March, place to be announced later.

CONGLOMERATE REPORT

by $474. Since he has been feeling cane he reports that he has not had a single sick cow.

The new ice plant over at Lake Harbor, whose operation is not far away, is a joint project of the City Ice and Fuel Company and the Atlantic Coast Lines, and its products will be used largely in icing and cooling its refrigerator cars. The duplicate plant to be erected in Belle Glade, now in its preliminary stages, will be a similar link-up between the ice company and the Florida East Coast Railway, and its products will care for the railway-ice needs.

With these two new plants in operation, with warehouse storage, it will no longer be necessary to import ice to the Glades from Georgia and North Carolina, as has been the custom in the past. Thousands of tons of ice are used annually by the railroads for the refrigeration of cars.

Up until a few years ago, vegetables were not shipped in a regulation crate or container, but in most any kind of a box, barrel or hamper obtainable. Along came a grower over in Sarasota, and later to Belle Glade, who invented the present crate known as the Howard container, which is now in universal use, and that man was Howard Hancy. These crates are manufactured under patent right leases, and every week in the Glades region, a score or more cars are used, coming from the various plants in known down condition, and assembled locally.

County Agent M. U. Mounts and his assistant, H. L. Speer, report the discovery of a serious menace to tomato crops—the presence of tomato rust or blight, which has affected around 1000 acres of Glades land. They are urging that fungicides be applied to all fields and seed beds at once, and that every precaution be taken to control and eradicate the malady. Dr. R. C. Cassels, of the experimental station, as a pathologist, discovered the presence of the blight, and has given chemicals and fungicides to be used in the spraying of affected areas.

Machinery Held Up

K. B. Baker, county road supervisor, says he is having his troubles due to the strikes over the nation. His big road grader has been laid up for repairs for more than ten days, awaiting repairs for the wheel. It is not a case of ordering the needed repairs through the usual channels. By repeated telephone calls in search of parts he finally discovered a wheel part in Atlanta, the cone in Miami and a nut in Atlanta and a bearing in Tampa. The Kramer Island Road, which caused so much grief in
